THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

We published yesterday the platform adopted by the Republican State convention. It is a disappointing document, is flat and stale, and fails to deal with any live issue or to take any position that will advance the interests of the people. It even lacks the virtue of having the customary ringing denunciation of everything Democratic. There are seven demands in the platform. In brief, let us examine each of them.First—The first is the stereotyped declaration of allegiance to the Republican party, winding up with a cordial endorsement of "the administration of PRESIDENT HARRISON as wise, just and patriotic." No such resolution could have passed a convention of representative Republicans. Only the Revenue doodles and Postmasters would vote an endorsement of the President. It is an open secret that the ablest and truest Republicans in the State lose no opportunity of denouncing the administration.
This declaration was therefore a sham.Second—This plank deprecates the action of the Senate in failing to pass the Blair bill; and urges its passage. The Republican Senate deliberately defeated the bill BECAUSE MOST OF THE MONEY WOULD COME SOUTH. There is no expression of approval of the Democratic platform of last week which advocated increased State taxation for schools. This plank is an arraignment of the Republican party for failing to keep its promise, and nothing else. The people who ask for bread in the shape of better public schools are given a stone. The contrast between the Democratic party and Republican party is seen as clearly here as in the record both parties have made upon public education. That record is that the Republicans stole the school fund and gave no instruction, while the Democrats have established schools in every district. This record is known of all men.Third—The Democratic party is denounced for making a few slight changes in the election law. We shall touch upon these changes later. This plank is based upon the belief that the PAYNE bill was enacted into a law. The speakers in their harangues denounced the Democrats for passing the PAYNE election bill WHEN THAT BILL WAS DEFEATED.
This plank is based upon ignorance or wilful misrepresentation of the facts.Fourth—A repeal of the present county government system—the old chestnut —was again demanded.Fifth—The fifth plank is funny. We give it again in full:That we sympathize with the farmers in their efforts to throw off the despotic yoke of bourbon tyranny which has so long kept them in political servitude as "hewers of wood and drawers of water" for the aristocratic and autocratic leaders of the Democratic party.In the first place, the farmers are not protesting against local or state legislation. They recognize that their burdens are imposed by the Federal Government, and it is to rid themselves of the oppression of federal legislation that theyhave organized. To be sure, there is complaint here and there of local officers, but it is a mere bagatelle, and the farmers regard it in comparison with the great questions of Tariff Reform and Financial Reform. In his address at Asheville, this month, PRESIDENT ELIAS CARR told the State Alliance that "in the Capitol at Washington, have originated the farmers' woes," and that "this government for the last thirty years has been run in the interest of a victorious war party;" and that at Washington "the protest of a millionaire will over-ride the petitions of millions of working men." He then declares that from "Congress alone can come the remedy" and urges the Alliance to "continue to insist upon our National Congress giving us this much needed relief." He stated the position and views of ninety-nine farmers out of every hundred.What then has the Republican party, in its highest party convention, offered the farmers? Upon the National Banking question, it says not a word while the Democratic State convention demands "the abolition of National banks." Upon the great evil of gambling in the products of farm and the work-shops, the Republicans say not a word. The Democrats demand "such laws as shall effectually prevent the dealing in futures." Upon the silver question which is the chief financial issue now in the public mind, the Republicans make no declaration. The Democratic State Convention declared "That we favor the free and unlimited coinage of silver." Upon the question of the alien ownership of land not a word is said. The Democratic Convention favored "the passage of laws prohibiting the alien ownership of land . . . and held for actual settlers." Upon the necessity of a reduction of Federal taxation no utterance is given. The Democratic party demanded that "all revenue, National, State or County, shall be limited to the necessary expenses of the government economically and honestly administered." The same is true of all the other planks. There is a glittering generality of sympathy for the farmer, but when it comes to practice measures of real benefit, no declaration is made. It is, however, perhaps, creditable to the Convention that no specific promises of support to measures that would advance the interests of the farmers were made. If promises had been made in that direction they would not have been carried out, or deceived the farmer. Everybody knows that the burdens of taxation now resting upon the people of agricultural sections are the result of Republican legislation. The only honest plank that the convention could have passed would have been something like this: "We deplore the fact that the legislation enacted by the Republican party has made the farmers poorer year by year. We would like to offer some relief, but Wall Street, to which we look for orders, will not allow us to enlarge the volume of currency, and the manufacturers, who furnish the "fat," will not permit any reduction of the tariff—in fact, they paid us enough in "fat" in the last campaign to secure an increase of tariff taxation which the McKINLEY bill secures. We are sorry for the farmers. We hope they will vote our ticket in order to secure for themselves a home market (?) and to help their brother manufacturers, but we cannot give any relief to them directly."6th. This plank is a flat-footed endorsement of the Force bill disguised in some misleading language about fair elections. We shall refer to this declaration at another time.
7th. The last declaration is an approval of the policy of reciprocity. There was much difference of opinion in the convention upon this question. Mr. A.
V. Dockery, lately editor of the Southern Protectionist and U. S. Consul to Leeds, England, has furnished the CHRONICLE an article against the reciprocity plan. We have not space for it to-day, but we will give it to our readers in a few days. It will show that this declaration does not really represent the Republicans of the State.This is the platform upon which the candidates nominated stand. It is weak and poorly put together and the early winds of November will blow its planks in every direction."YALLER" SHOES AND "DUDE" SASHES.The cackling of a goose saved the Imperial city. The solution of great questions is often hindered or advanced by some trifling or foolish incident, and the attention of the public mind not infrequently diverted, to the advantage of all, by idle and useless and foolish arguments.A few weeks ago there was great feeling manifested by the friends of SENATOR VANCE over the criticisms of the Progressive Farmer on his letter in which he declared his belief that the Sub-Treasury bill was unconstitutional. Everybody got to discussing the constitution, abusing the other side, and things began to get decidedly warm. The thermometer went up so high that it almost "busted." If the excitement and the harsh sayings had gone on a few weeks longer, there is no telling to what excesses everybody would have gone. But, just as the tension was the greatest, just as it looked like there was going to be an explosion, the cackling of the goose was heard—and the State was saved. Our brother of the Winston Sentinel is the hero. He it waswho saw how perilous was all this rancorous discussion, and he took a direct and effective step to put an end to it. He didn't discuss the arguments, he just lay down the law.
He merely said: "The associate editor of the Progressive Farmer wears 'yaller' shoes." That was all. But it was the safety-valve. Then some other fellow said that any man who would wear "yaller" shoes wasn't a sincere friend of the farmer, and the whole discussion turned upon the question: Can a man wear "yaller" shoes and be a true friend to the hard-working farmer? Some said yes; and some said nay; and fast and furious ran the discussion upon this line. The Statesville Landmark thought that a man might wear "yaller" shoes and still be friendly to the agriculturalists, but that the burden of proof was on the "yaller" shoe man to prove his friendship. There was about to be a heated and acrimonious debate on this point when BRO. RAMSEY, the Progressive Farmer's associate editor, came out in an elaborate editorial in which he made his defence by way of "confession and avoidance" as the lawyers say. He admitted wearing "yaller" shoes, and defended it by saying, first, they were cheaper than black shoes; and second, that they do not need to be blacked every day, and he thus saved five cents each day, or saved useless wear and tear upon his none too robust physical constitution which the exercise of polishing his shoes would entail. But he did not stop there. He went into the household of his antagonist, and declared that he had as much right to wear yaller shoes and be the friend of the farmer as Senator VANCE had to wear a dude silk belly-band (otherwise called a sash) in place of a vest, and be the friend of the farmer. That was a clincher. VANCE's friends were thereupon estopped from further criticism upon BRO. RAMSEY's "yaller" shoes if the charge that Senator Vance wears a dude sash should be substantiated.
Inquiry was made and it was ascertained that SENATOR VANCE—plain old ZEB, who never cared anything for style—was in truth wearing these latest agencies of fashion—the silk belly-band.
It carried consternation to the hearts of his supporters who began to get weak in the knees.Now, the CHRONICLE believes that all this serious discussion and dangerous difference of opinion, and acrimonious debate upon the two vital points of silk "belly bands" and "yaller" shoes ought to be amicably settled and adjusted. As a friend of both parties, we believe that its best solution can be found in this way: Let SENATOR VANCE discard the "belly-band," and say that he never intended to be a dude, and let BRO.
RAMSEY discard the "yaller" shoes and disclaim dandish intents, and all their friends bury the hatchet, and smoke the pipe of peace.Later.
The Charlotte News of yesterday indicates that SENATOR VANCE has abandoned the silk belly-band. The News says:Col. Rankin says that Vance did essay to wear a sash. Vance donned the dude garb early in the season, about the time of the hot weather in June. One day he saw Tom Reed coming into the capitol with a sash around his waist. Vance got leave of absence for twenty minutes, went home, took off his sash, buttoned on his "gallowases," and has never since had any use for the sash. This explanation, we take it, will be satisfactory to Senator Vance's constituency in this State.W. H. & R. S. TUCKER & CO.
LAST WEEK IN AUGUST, 1890This month is usually not a very busy one in carpets, but this August is an exception.If we do not sell a single yard of carpet this week, we can still say Saturday night, when we are through work, that we have done the biggest business in this line of stuff that has ever been done in Raleigh during August.Some may ask, what is the cause?Early in the month we began showing a line of carpets as large as is ordinarily brought out for regular Fall trade. The completeness of the stock, together with lower prices than the same grades had formerly sold for, caused many to buy early.Last week was added new attractions. This week we want to close out some privates that are not brand new, and to do so, we will make it to your interest to buy now.W. H. & R. S. TUCKER & CO.,

On Saturday, the 6th day of September, 1890, at the court house door, in the city of Raleigh, N. C., I will sell the highest bidder at public outcry the following property, to-wit: One lot in the city of Raleigh fronting forty-eight feet on Hutton street, and running back about one hundred and twenty-five feet and adjoining the lands of Devereux Atkinson and Washington Jones and others, and containing about one-eighth of an acre.
Said sale will be made by virtue of powers conferred upon the undersigned, Andrew Syme, as administrator of B. B. Lewis, Jr., deceased, by the terms and conditions of a mortgage deed made by Gideon Perry and wife Hester to said Lewis, which is duly registered in the office of the Register of Deeds for Wake county, N. C., in Book 60, page 311.
Terms of sale cash. Time of sale 12 m.
